A Third Way Beyond Capitalism and Communism

The struggle in Dewsbury warms up as WHITES & ASIANS AGREE:

Segregate

Our Schools Now!

THE BRAVE STRUGGLE of White parents in Dewsbury for the right to send 26 children to a different school to the 85% Asian Headfield school has exposed multi-racism as a vicious tyranny. It has also shown the Tory claim to stand for the right of parents to a real say in their childrens' education to be a lie.

The parents, all from the Thornhill Lees estate, refused to stay silent as their young children were forced to receive an inferior education in a school where British history and culture and the teaching of English are sacrificed in the interests of the Asian majority of pupils.

This problem is spreading rapidly in many English towns and cities, particularly in Yorkshire and East and West London. It was inevitable that sooner or later a group of parents would stand up for the right of their children to go to school with their own kind and to their own national identity.

The professional liberals of Kirklees Education Authority and the government have accused the parents of racism and have refused to accept their basic democratic right to decide what is best for their own children. These arrogant bureaucrats are paid so much taxpayers' money that they can afford to send their own offspring to public schools - which just happen to be overwhelmingly White. In Tory Britain the "right to choose" is there for anyone who can afford to buy it.

MUSLIM SUPPORT

As for racism, the truth is that the local Muslim Parents Association is supporting the right of the protesting parents to send their children to the mainly White Overthorpe school nearby. There is a growing demand among the one million Muslims temporarily living in Britain for their own schools where their children can be taught their own heritage in keeping with their customs, by their own Asian teachers.

This argument is well put by Mr Riaz Shadid, secretary of the Bradford based Muslim Parents' Association, who has spoken out in support of the White parents. Describing so-called multi-cultural education as a "farce," he said that Asian parents agreed with them.

"Our children are at the same disadvantages because the state system makes no provision for Islamic teaching or the preservation of our moral way of life, our culture and our heritage."

There are already 15 exclusively Muslim schools in this country, and their waiting lists are enormous. Typically, the anti-British state is not quite as hostile to this development as to the idea of all White schools, but even so the Muslims have received no help for these worthy ventures. In fact, they are constantly pressured to remain part of the multi-racial "experiment," rather than doing what they know is best for their children.

A parent of one of the pupils involved in the education dispute at Thornhill, Dewsbury, supervises work for pupils who managed to enter Overthorpe School.

The example of Bradford headmaster Ray Honeyford shows that reactionary Tories are as bad in this respect as the traditionally anti-British "left." Far from wanting to preserve White culture for its own sake, Honeyford objected to the move towards all-Asian schools because it would stop immigrant children "becoming British." In such a conflict, the NF firmly supports the right of the Asians to educate their children in their own ways.

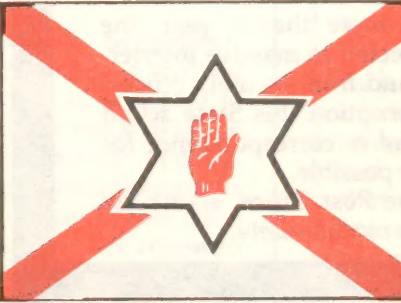

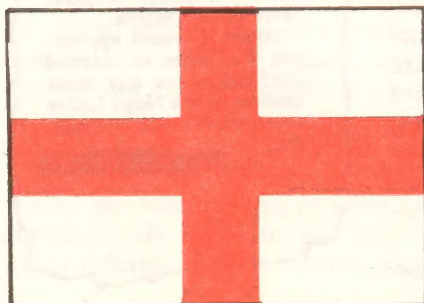

RIGHT TO BE DIFFERENT

Whites and Asians alike are the victims of the sick race-mixing system which is trying to destroy all national, cultural and racial differences through forced integration. And now Whites and Asians are beginning to fight back and assert their right to be different. But the State is still trying to force them to mix.

The next move is obvious: a united campaign by Asian and White parents in places such as Dewsbury for the right to segregated schools if the majority of parents demand them. This aim is democratic, principled and realistic. The multi-racist campaign for forced integration is undemocratic, hate-filled and doomed to failure.

Racialism is simply the desire of all peoples to preserve their own customs and identity. It is a healthy natural instinct based on love of one's own kind, not hatred of others. That is why racialists of all colours must work together to bring an end to forced integration. That is why, united, we will win the right to live apart.

TO FREEDOM

AS THIS issue goes to press, the latest development in the Dewsbury education battle is the news that nine of the mothers of the White children involved have started giving lessons themselves in the back room of a local pub.

There can be little doubt that this is the most effective White campaign against the forced integration policy of the British state since Robert Relf's first hunger strike while in prison for wanting to sell his house "to an English family only." And there is no doubt that the White case in Dewsbury has been very well presented. It is clear to everyone that this is not a question of negative bigotry, it is a matter of parental love and the right of all children to be educated in their own culture among their own kind.

POSITIVE

The protest, and particularly the positive self-help actions now developing, are the sort of thing which the NF should have been organizing years ago. Many local officials in the early days realized this, but their constructive proposals were quickly stifled by a bigotted centralizing leadership. At a meeting of a new West Midlands unit in the early '70's, for example, the organizer gave details of the coach trips they were running for local pensioners, several of whom had come to the meeting as a result. The visiting guest speaker, the then National Organizer Martin Webster, threw an all too common fit. "This is a political party, not a bloody burial society" he raged to the shocked audience.

Such short-sighted stupidity set the NF back many years. For if the National Front is to achieve anything worthwhile the one thing it must not be is a political party. We are a Movement of national rebirth and regeneration, or we are nothing.

NOT FROM TOP

And regeneration cannot start at the top and be imposed on the rest of society. It has to begin with the individual, and with the local community. Nationalists cannot complain about the "apathy" of folk in their own area if they do not themselves provide a shining example of how people should behave. Hence our suggestion elsewhere in this paper that as well as complaining about cuts in the NHS, our activists and supporters should get involved in fund-raising work to help their local hospital.

Similarly, communities cannot complain about neglect or abuse by the State if they are not prepared to help themselves and show that they could do things better on their own. The parents of the Dewsbury estate are fortunate in having a talented spokesman in publican Eric Haley, and together they have done just that, gaining the sympathy of millions. But many other communities would do the same thing if they had the local leadership to set the ball rolling.

The National Front should have been providing that lead for more than a decade now. Had this been done, it is likely that the mass of "soft" support which the organization enjoyed until 1977 would, at least in some areas, have been turned into real influence and local power.

But it's never too late to learn. There are dozens of Headfield Schools; hundreds of empty buildings which could become Day Centres for pensioners or unemployed youth; thousands of people threatened by the closure of hospitals and schools. Suitable subjects for NF Community Action projects can be found in every city, town and village in the land. All that is needed is the political will and personal commitment to get involved. They must be found.

IMPORTANT NOTICE. For more than a year, the National Front has been subjected to massive interference with the post going to and from its main offices. In order to minimize the disruption this State action causes, you are asked to hand in correspondence for every NF operation whenever possible.

If you do have to use the Post Office, always use recorded delivery and keep your receipt safely.

DEAR
design

Dear NFN,

I was very impressed with your new cover design, it is most striking. The idea of giving a place to the flag of each of the peoples of Britain appeals to me. We Nationalists must remember our heritage.

But I have to admit that I am a little worried that some members of the public might not fully grasp the significance of the flags and the idea behind using them instead of the union jack. I hope that you will make a point of explaining this in a future issue.

Keep up the good work.

Yours,
D.F., London E.

Editor's Note:

Future issues of the paper will carry a note explaining the significance of the flags and we will shortly carry a major feature on the NF's support for the idea of a "British Family of Nations."

Other reactions to our new masthead would be greatly appreciated.

Dear Sirs,

Once again the Notting Hill Carnival turned out to be one big shambles. It seems that this "Carnival" is just an excuse for robbery, riot and drug-pushing.

Twenty three year old Michael Galvin's only crime was to set up a stall selling soft drinks, only to be surrounded by ten youths who murdered him over the price of a tin of coke!

It sickens me that this should be allowed to go on year in, year out, and yet at the same time a large peaceful gathering of Britons on Remembrance Day meets with official hostility.

Yours, J.P. Birmingham.

Dear Friends,

It's a good job that someone is still standing up for the White people of our poor country. A lot of people I talk to agree when I say that immigration has been a disaster and is making us second class citizens. But they tend to say that "it's too late to do anything about it now."

So I was pleased to read the piece in issue 94 saying exactly how your repatriation policies would be carried out. If people can be convinced that something can still be done, then there is still hope for Britain.

Please find enclosed a small donation. I'm sorry I can't afford more, but my pension doesn't go far these days.

THE "BRITISH MEDIA" has for many years contained a vastly disproportionate number of Zionist Jews. Their influence is one of the main reasons why White and Muslim nationalists in particular never get fair treatment in the press, or on the radio or TV.

In the last couple of months, a number of key media posts have gone to Zionists, thus adding even more to the mind-bending power of this anti-British state within a state.

The new editor of the News of the World is one Ms Wendy Henry. She is married to Tim Miles, chief reporter of the grovellingly pro-Israel Daily Mail. Wendy's twin sister Sara works with the Sunday Telegraph. So the scribbles of one family with distinctly dubious national loyalties are taken as gospel by literally millions of ordinary people each week.

BROADCASTING TOO

Other new names to watch out for include Ms Abramsky, who takes over as editor of BBC Radio news and current affairs programmes. Don't be surprised if you don't hear any sympathetic reporting about the plight of dispossessed Palestinians for a decade or so.

And brace yourself for another wave of Holocaust fiction on London Weekend Television, where a Ms Linda Agran has just become the new Controller of Drama.

There is no doubt that the mass media have enormous influence over popular opinion. Can a nation which allows this power to drift into the hands of foreigners really be described as "free"?

Way to 'true democracy'

SIR — In an earlier letter — which appeared in the News Letter of August 3 — I described how Britain's system of parliamentary 'democracy' was, in fact, an undemocratic sham.

That tens of thousands of people elect one person to Parliament to 'represent' them is clearly farcical. My MP, for instance, could have voted to legalise heroin — or even have committed the country to war. But I don't have any say in 'my' MP's actions until the next election, which may be five years away!

I then proposed a system of direct participation — whereby the people decide and rule — as the only true form of democracy.

I am now indebted to Edward Archdale, whose letter (News Letter 11/8/87) made a valuable contribution to the debate on democracy.

Mr Archdale correctly noted that the system of direct participation has been instituted in Libya by Col Gaddafi. He also pointed out that the Libyan example consisted of a whole multitude of Basic Popular Congresses, People's Committees, Municipality Popular congresses, etc. Notwithstanding the unfamiliar phrasology, the Libyan system does appear to be somewhat bureaucratic.

Mr Archdale then proposed a more democratic alternative to Westminster; a National Assembly, based upon proportional representation.

However, I feel that this system is still inherently undemocratic. It still involves representatives (albeit elected in a much fairer manner) acting in lieu of the people. And even a PR system could be manipulated by the very same powerful groups who are at work — behind the scenes — in Westminster today. I still believe that true democracy can only be achieved by a system of direct participation of the people. (And with the use of modern computer technology, this needn't be a complicated matter).

I also believe that such a revolutionary change in the way we govern ourselves can only come about alongside other corresponding changes in society. These would include such "Third Way" (neither Capitalism nor Communism) policies as a break up of the large cities and a return to the land; the fostering of a respect for our environment; a return to a more natural and spiritual way of life, and the promotion of the ideals of national Freedom and Social Justice. Incidentally, I believe the only way that Ulster can achieve all of the above is through independence.

A move away from the sham democracy of Westminster towards the system of direct participation would remain a hollow victory without these other changes.

Again, I would appreciate the ideas of Edward Archdale — or any other readers of the News Letter — on these ideas. — Yours &c.,

A NUMBER of the politically most sophisticated NFN Supporters units are conducting a useful debate on the National Front's criticism of the parliamentary "representation" fraud and the movement's proposals for genuine democracy.

In most areas, this is still a matter of internal discussion, but several Supporters and Friends of the Movement in Ulster have gone much further. As befits a system which aims to put real power in the hands of the ordinary people, the NF's ideas for true democracy are being hammered out in public debate through the columns of several Ulster newspapers.

This is helping to show many thousands of people that the National Front is not just a negative pressure group opposed to immigration and IRA terrorism. We are also working towards the radical and positive change in the system of government which is the only thing which can finally bring peace to Ulster.

The latest contribution to the debate is reprinted here.

FRONT-LINE ACTION

NFN Supporters in Oldham have set up a new National Front Drum Corps. The unit has both snare and base drums and has a full body of drummers who are already meeting regularly for practice sessions.

The Oldham Drum corps' first big engagement will be on the NF's traditional Remembrance Day parade in central London on Sunday 8th November. By then, the local organizer told NF News, "we hope to be bigger and better than the NF's South London Drum corps. If we are, we hope to have the honour of leading the whole march."

No doubt the organizer of the South London Drum corps will have his own opinions on that, but they'd better get practicing as well.

Any NFN Supporter or Friend of the Movement who would like to join one of the Drum Corps should write to them for more details. Experience is not essential as training will be provided. Meanwhile, NF supporters who aren't able to get out 'banging the drum' on the streets, can still help by sending a donation to help buy more equipment. The Oldham Drum Corps in particular still needs a hand to get properly established with spare skins, sticks, etc.

Applications to get involved or donations should be sent direct to: Oldham Drum Corps, P O Box 123, Oldham OL1 2HB or South London Drum Corps, P O Box 220, London SW9 0BJ.

Assembly Point: BRESSENDEN PLACE (opposite London Victoria BR Station).
Form-up: 2.30 pm. MARCH-OFF 3 pm SHARP!

The National Front will be holding its traditional Remembrance Day march and rally in central London on Sunday 8th November.

This will take place as usual in spite of the refusal of the Metropolitan Police to answer requests by the NF's ruling Directorate for the normal meetings to finalize the details of the activity. As the police have adopted this short-sighted policy, the National Front will be following the usual arrangements which have made the parade a dignified and peaceful activity for many years.

The march will be led by members of the NF Directorate, including Derek Holland, Graham Williamson, Patrick Harrington and Nick Griffin. A wreath will be laid at the Cenotaph by the Chairman of the National Front's Directorate, Mr. Derek Holland.

Any attempt by the police to interfere with our traditional rights will be rejected. The non-political parade, the short religious service at the Cenotaph, and the political rally at the end of the activity, will all go ahead regardless of possible State bans, police harassment or violent attacks by Communist thugs.

But such Nationalist defiance is only possible if every National Front supporter is there with us, demonstrating the determination of patriots from England, Scotland, Wales and Ulster to honour the War Dead of our Nations.

WHAT IS TO BE DONE?

THIS COLUMN is specially designed to keep all NF officials well informed of forthcoming activities and to remind them of what needs to be done over the next two weeks.

All NF officials and activists must therefore make it a top priority to read this column carefully each issue, and then to act on the information.

* ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING. Sat. 24th October 1987. Resolutions for motions to be put to this meeting of cadres and candidate cadres must be submitted in writing by 10th October. All resolutions must be proposed and seconded by cadres and sent recorded delivery to: P O Box 228, London E.12.

* COUNCIL BY-ELECTIONS. All units are reminded that council by-elections arising in areas where political or Community Action work is being carried out must be contested by an NF candidate.

Contact GW in advance and keep NF News informed throughout the campaign. And although good results should not be expected at this early stage, don't forget to let us know what happens.

* MEDIA MONITORING UNIT. Units are reminded to send in newspaper articles referring to the NF which may need to be the subject of a press complaint. Individual volunteers to monitor a particular TV or radio channel (mainly the news broadcasts) are also welcome. Help the NF to fight back against media lies.

Write to Media Monitoring Unit, BCM Picador, London WC1N 3XX or phone the NF Contact Line on 01 373 3432.

* ASSET ACQUISITION. Comrades in the north west of England and south London are reminded that they should already have obtained a 24 hour answer phone Contact Line. Units which already have one are reminded that the number must be used on local propaganda at every opportunity.

All units should now have a concrete set of achievable targets for asset acquisition. And all units must ensure that fund raising is made their top priority. The treasurer's job on the local committee is not an irrelevant bit of bureaucracy, it is the most important position.

Remember! In a capitalist society, money is power!

* NEXT PAPER. The next paper will be delayed in order to allow units to catch up on sales and fund-raising work, and to allow it to be collected at the Cadre meeting to save delivery charges. It will therefore appear for 24th October. Bring CASH to the meeting. No credit.

Extra copies of this issue will be available for units which sell out as a result to order additional stocks. Don't forget to tell your regular buyers that their next issue will be late.

* CADRE TRAINING. R.P.O.'s should now be testing their C.C.'s on the first sets of thematic questions provided with the last cadre bulletin.

THE SUFFERING OF PALEST

ISRAEL: A Study of Terr

NEVER FORGET

SEPTEMBER marks the 5th Anniversary of the brutal massacres of Palestinians in the refugee camps of Sabra and Shatila in Beirut. Hundreds of men, women and children were slaughtered in cold blood by Israeli-backed Christian militiamen, directly helped and controlled by the Israeli army.

From the murder of Arab civilians and British servicemen during and after the last war, right up to the present day, Zionism has been built on terror. The Middle East will remain the "short fuse to World War Three" until the bandit state of Israel is replaced by a secular Palestine with equal rights for both Arab and Jewish citizens.

36 JEWISH CHRONICLE DECEMBER 19 1986

His finger on the trigger

Mr Itzhak Shamir, Israel's Prime Minister, who was a member of the pre-State of Israel underground group, Irgun Zvai Leumi, tries out the new mini-Uzi sub-machine gun at the Herzlia (near Tel Aviv) factory complex where it is made Israel richly deserves her reputation as "the terrorist state." Israel was brought into being through terrorism. This included the bombing of the King David Hotel, which killed 91 people, mainly civilians and British soldiers. And countless Arab villages were destroyed in brutal attacks like the one on Deir Yassin, where 242 civilians, mainly women and children, were butchered with machine guns, grenades and bayonets.

The ruthlessness of the Zionist fanatics who carried out such attacks was shown most clearly in 1940 when they blew up the SS Patria in Haifa harbour. This merchant ship was crammed with Jewish refugees from Europe, 276 of whom were killed as a result. This was done so that the British could be blamed and so whip up support for the Zionist cause. Only later did it emerge that the attack was the work of the Jewish terror gang, the Hagana.

For over 40 years, Israel has been the world's greatest terrorist. The Sabra/Shatila massacres were just one link in an unbroken chain of murder.

Top right: The strung up bodies of Sergeants Clifford Martin and Mervyn Paice in a eucalyptus grove. They were slowly hanged with piano wire and their bodies boobytrapped.

Right: 22nd February 1948. Members of the RAF Regiment guarding the bodies of two comrades murdered by Jewish terrorists.

CRISIS IN THE NHS

WE CAN BEAT THE CUTS

A CHRONIC shortage of nurses in Greater Manchester is causing massive problems and untold dangers in local hospitals. The loss of staff is being described as a "haemorrhage from a vital work force."

In some parts of Greater Manchester there is a 20% turnover of nurses annually. This is double the 10% average for the whole country – itself a figure over which the Royal College of Nursing has expressed great concern.

It has been admitted that desperately sick children are being denied live-saving treatment because of a shortage of suitably qualified nurses.

Yet 30,000 nurses leave the Health Service every year, mainly because of low pay, understaffing and the pressure of too much responsibility.

SITUATION WORSE

The north western branch of the RCN believes that the situation in Greater Manchester is worse than anywhere else in the country. There are often as few as two nurses to run a ward with thirty acutely sick patients.

The director of nursing at the Royal Manchester children's hospital, Anne McDonald, sums the problem up:

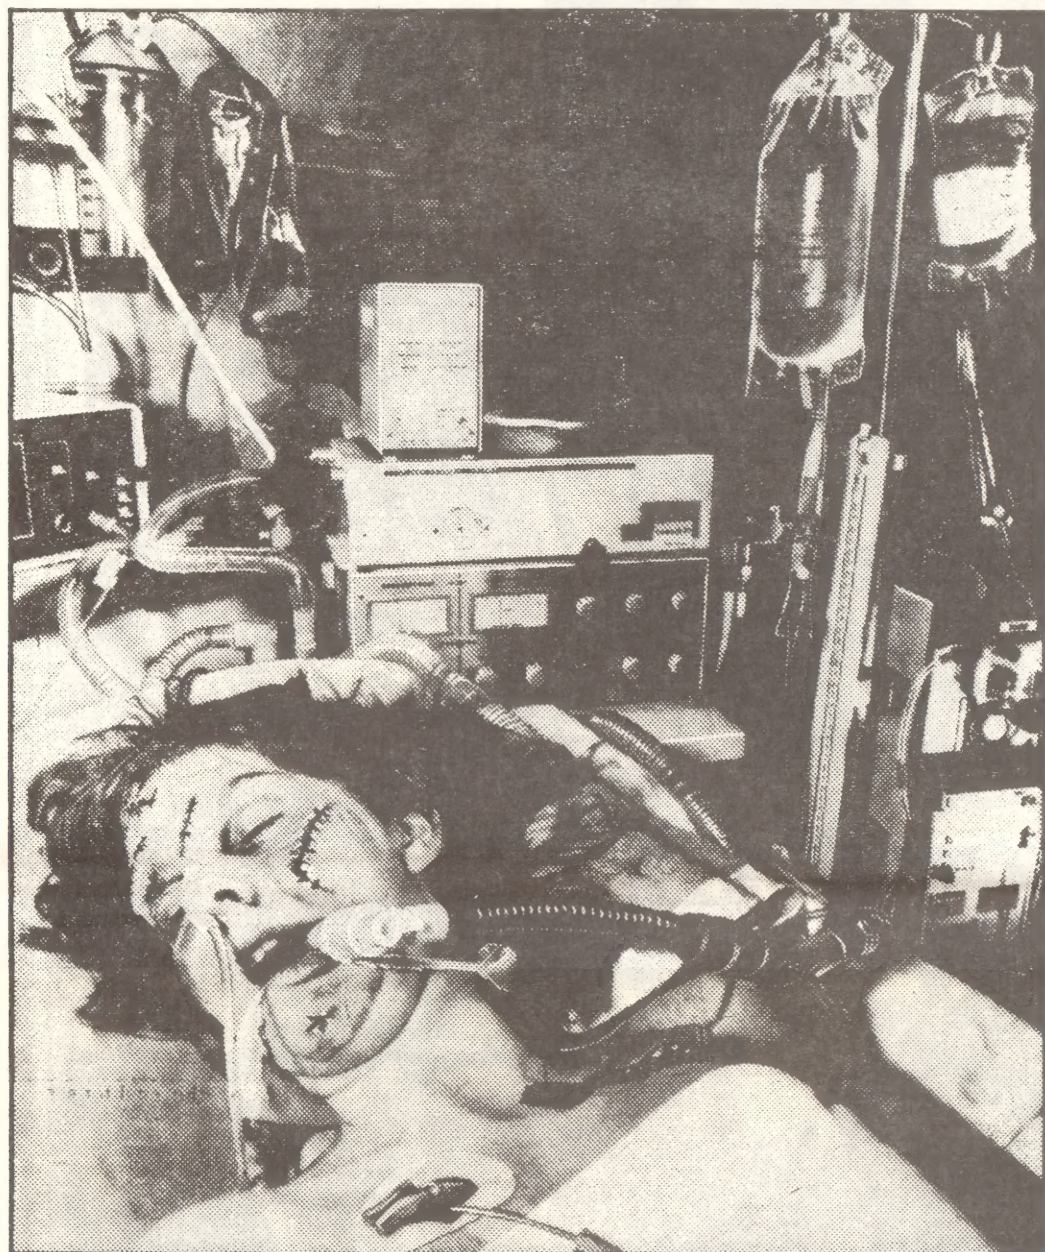

"Nurses are not paid for their responsibility. They struggle to care for patients in the way in which they have been taught and eventually give up, not only because they feel unequal to the task, but because they are not paid enough. Saudi Arabia and Australia are attracting many of our qualified nurses because they pay more. And the more who leave the worse the situation will become."

The steady return to the days when effective health care was available only to those who could afford it, is completely unacceptable to Nationalists. We believe that a nation is like a big family, which has a special duty to look after its old, sick and young members, even if it is not "profitable" to do so.

Obviously the best way to reverse the selfish Tory "I'm alright Jack" attitude to health care is to work for the political victory of the National Front. But that is still many years away.

In the meantime, even small groups of NFN Supporters can do something concrete to help. Simply get quietly involved in work in the community to raise funds and support for the local hospital. It isn't enough to complain about government cuts. If the state won't provide decent health care, ordinary people must work together to provide it for themselves.

Start living like a true Nationalist – become an active "friend" of your local hospital.

IMPORTANT NOTICE DIRECTORATE ELECTIONS

As announced at the Race campaign meeting, nominations for elections to the National Directorate are now open. Nominations must be submitted in writing by would-be candidates, and must also be signed by two other cadre members as proposer and seconder. Nominations must be sent to P O Box 228, Manor Park, London E.12, to arrive at least two weeks before the AGM on 24th October.

TECHNOLOGY

DONATE

TECHNOLOGY FUND donations have fallen sharply in the last few weeks. No doubt this is because most people are either recovering from holiday or saving up to go away. But our inability to afford the computer modems and other modern equipment which the NF so badly needs means that the staff of NF News can't have a proper holiday because they haven't got the time.

Since all NF work is done by unpaid volunteer labour, isn't it only fair that the national workers for the Cause should at least be able to use labour-saving equipment? Our writers, paste-up artists, distributors and local sellers all risk prosecution, fines and imprisonment for up to two years to bring you NF News. Please give our operation the support this dedication deserves.

Fascists - Don't Let Them Divide Us

AN ARTICLE in a recent issue of the Anarcho-Syndicalist publication Direct Action made a number of attacks on the NF. It was full of the usual misconceptions, but at least it pretended to explain our ideology rather than just making up lies about our activities.

But the article in fact 'explained' the ideology of fascism, and didn't actually deal with the ideology on which the National Front is really based – Distributism. We therefore feel that a reply is called for, and believe that the following points will be of interest even to the vast majority of our readers who haven't even heard of this anarchist sect, let alone read their paper.

Direct Action's tactic of trying to associate us with Nazis is not new – the capitalist media have been using that smear for years. In fact, it has never been true of the National Front as a whole. And the expulsion or resignation of people who did hold anti-democratic views means that it cannot now be applied to any section of our movement.

National Socialism was a centralized state dictatorship which compromised with capitalism. The National Front, by complete contrast, favours de-centralization and Distributism.

The article seems to recognize this by grudgingly referring to a "Fascist tendency" that believes in a "minimum state" (which is about as absurd as suggesting that an alcoholic could believe in prohibition). But they allege that although we favour stripping the state of its powers, the security forces would be retained unaltered and used to preserve the existing system through naked oppression.

POWER, WEALTH & ARMS

The writer of this nonsense is either a deliberate liar or has simply not read our literature. The National Front not only believes in transferring political power and ownership of productive wealth to the people. We also believe that all adult citizens should receive military training and be armed.

This would prevent any future reactionary state from using the armed forces to impose its will upon the people. No movement which had the slightest leaning towards dictatorship or oppression would possibly make such a demand. (For further reading on this important point, see the article "Arm the People" in Nationalism Today issue 40.

The anarchists claim that our nationalism makes our anti-capitalism meaningless. This is absurd. Capitalism is an internationalist philosophy which wants to destroy national boundaries as they hinder the free flow of goods and labour and so put restrictions on profit. This makes nationalism the strongest opponent of international capitalism.

MANY NOT FEW

Further, under capitalism, ownership, power and wealth are concentrated in the hands of a few people. As already made clear, the NF aims to decentralize power away from the state and will take ownership (of factories, mines and farms, as well as homes) out of the hands of the Few, and put it in the hands of the Many.

These changes would give ordinary people a far greater degree of independence and real power than any other system. They make revolutionary nationalism the only real alternative to capitalism.

Another Establishment lie which Direct Action repeats is that the NF "blames the Blacks" for unemployment. This is not true. We believe that unemployment is caused by the same economic system which brought the coloureds to our land in the first place. The presence of millions of immigrants certainly makes the situation worse, but it did not cause the problem. Repatriation is vital to peace and the preservation of our racial and cultural identity – but it will not end unemployment.

NOT IMPERIALIST

The allegation that the Front supports "British imperialism" in Northern Ireland is easily refuted. Every regular reader of NF News will know that we advocate independence for Ulster as the only alternative to Westminster neglect and Irish imperialism.

Having set out where the National Front really stands on the points raised by Direct Action, we will watch with interest to see whether the anarchists, or any of our other opponents, have the courage to tell their supporters what our movement truly believes in. And we will watch with amusement when they try to convince people that our proposals are wrong.

The System tightens its repressive grip

Spy Camera expansion

THE POLICE are offering the motoring public a deadly speed bribe in return for acceptance of a nationwide network of "motorway spy cameras" which would monitor the registration number of every vehicle which passed them.

The spy cameras would be linked to a chain of computers which would automatically alert the police if a car and driver which they regarded as "of interest" came within view. This might seem a reasonable aid to catching criminals until you consider that a large proportion of drivers in this category are there because of their political views and activities, not because they are criminals at all.

SUBVERSIVE

Conservationists, animal welfare campaigners, Nationalists, Greenpeace supporters, trades unionists – all these and many more are regarded by the State as "potentially subversive." This fact makes the police proposal another dangerous step down the road to the total control of a "Big Brother Is Watching You" State.

The police know that the spy system can only be installed if the public can be persuaded to accept it. After all, it would only take a few people armed with spray paint and hammers to knock out the cameras. And if most people sympathized with such direct action, it would be difficult to justify the repressive measures needed to stop it.

To get round this, the police are proposing that the motorway speed limit should be raised from 70 to 80 mph. They claim that the network of cameras and an increase in police manpower would then enable them to enforce the new higher limit more effectively than they do at present.

This argument is nonsense. If the police are actually interested in enforcing speed limits, the new proposals for doing so could be just as easily used to enforce the present 70 mph one. The Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents will be opposing the speed increase, since it will inevitably lead to even higher death rates on the roads. But the police are not interested in this, as their proposal is simply a cynical bribe to persuade most motorists to put up with being spied upon.

George Orwell was a few years out, but his vision of "1984" is well on the way to becoming a frightening reality.

MAGNA CARTER RIGHT TO BE ABOLISHED?

ANOTHER OF the fundamental principles of British justice is under attack. At the latest conference of the Police Federation, Britain's top cops called for laws to end the right of suspects to remain silent during questioning.

They want this because the biggest single source of evidence for successful convictions is statements made during interrogations shortly after arrest. All sorts of pressures can be applied at this time and many innocent people have gone to prison for crimes they did not commit because they have agreed to make a statement.

This need not happen at present, because anyone who knows their rights will remain silent until they have spoken to a solicitor and had a chance to think things over calmly. But now the police want to alter this. The right to silence has been a basic part of British law since Magna Carta established that a man should not be forced to "bear witness" against himself.

But in the steady drift towards a police state, 800 year old rights are seen as out of date and in the way. This is not the case. The right to silence is essential. Use it if you ever have to, and write letters to the press to help preserve it until you do.

THE REPRESSION FILE

LARNE. 11.9.87. NF News supporter sitting with two friends in a park. He and one of his friends were taken by the RUC – by force – to the local station. Both placed in cells. NFN supporter questioned about the movement. Refused to answer questions. Held for several hours before being released with a caution. This continues the long record of groundless police harassment of our activists in the town – the comrade in question was arrested earlier this year for standing outside a fish and chip shop!

BELFAST Member of Ulster NF's Central Executive "paid off" from his job with a legitimate and reputable private security firm. Firm had received note to do this from its London HQ on 18.9.87. Boss of Ulster firm queried the decision, but was told to enforce it. The comrade was told whilst on duty at 11 pm on 21.9.87. His boss could offer no explanation and said that it was to do with "something on the files in London."

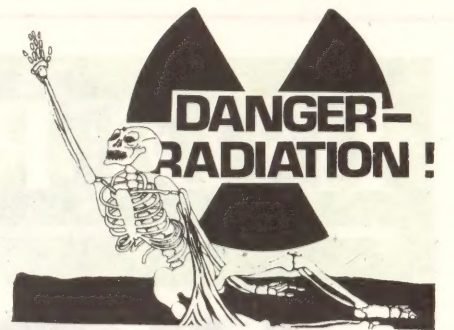

The NF man had not been married very long and this was his first full-time job after nearly two years on the dole. But since he was still serving his probation period with the firm he has no right of appeal. The decision from London came on the day after the Newtownabbey by-election, where the comrade was the election agent for the NF candidate.

NORWICH. August & September. Once again there has been a marked increase in the amount of post sent to NF comrades in the city not arriving or arriving late and obviously opened. This now includes private addresses as well as PO Box 41. Delay to this issue of NFN is one result of this renewed interference.

APOLOGY

WE APOLOGIZE to our readers for the extreme lateness of this issue of NF News. This is the result of a renewed wave of interference with our post in recent weeks.

We are working to overcome this weakness, but in the meantime can only ask our readers and sellers to bear with us and view this State interference with our operations as a tribute to our propaganda and to the enormous potential for the NF's message. "They" are not going to all this trouble for nothing!

RADIATION LEVELS in people living in part of North Wales are between 10 and 15 times higher than levels recorded after the nuclear tests in the Pacific and Australia in the 1950s and '60s. This is the horrifying result of tests carried out by a leading radiobiologist, Dr. Barry Lambert, of St. Bartholomew's hospital medical school.

The appalling level of radiation in the area first came to light as a result of tests after the Chernobyl disaster, but the Soviet accident is by no means wholly to blame. Radioactive caesium from Chernobyl has a particular "signature" all of its own, and much of the contamination is clearly not from that source.

Nor can it be explained away as the result of "background radiation" from natural sources, as these were excluded by the sophisticated scanning equipment used at the University of Wales hospital in the tests. So where is the growing concentration of deadly radioactivity coming from? Dr. Lambert has a pretty good idea, although he can't say for certain without the money for a much bigger survey: "Trawsfynydd is a possible source. It warrants further investigation," he says, knowing that there is no chance of the government making the funds for proper research available.

Trawsfynydd is an ageing and accident prone Magnox nuclear power station, and all the volunteers tested live within ten miles of it.

Researchers into the dangers of such plant are constantly hampered by a lack of funds and a wall of State secrecy. But even so, there is a massive and growing amount of evidence to show that nuclear power stations are not only incredibly expensive to build and run, but also that they are a deadly menace to every living thing around them.

THATCHER'S POLL TAX: A SINISTER MOVE!

the right to vote. It will be a strong incentive for poorer people not to register for voting.

STUPID

This would mirror the result last time the State was stupid enough to introduce such a tax. That was six hundred years ago, and the adult population of the country apparently "dropped" by a quarter between one census and the next!

But in addition to checks on the register, councils will also take their own annual census and be able to check on the use of local services like libraries and swimming pools. Anonymous tip-offs from neighbours are also expected to help the collectors issue perhaps 5 million summonses for non payment every year.

The government's plans for the poll tax make no allowance for the problem of evasion at all. This raises a worrying question: Are our rulers simply criminally stupid and short-sighted? Or do they plan to use the need to collect their new tax as the excuse they want to force us all to carry identity cards?

THE GOVERNMENT'S plan to replace rates on houses with a poll tax to be paid by every adult is a shambles. This is the conclusion of the officials who will have to operate the new system, who have naturally examined it more closely than anyone else.

Although supposed to promote efficiency, the "community charge" will require a bureaucracy of at least 10,000 extra officials to collect it. Even so, massive tax evasion is inevitable.

An official of the Rating and Valuation Association, Mr. Howard Longden, chief executive of Hove Borough Council, has spelt the dangers out very plainly:

"Without an army of snoopers or an official identity system it will not be possible to locate the missing millions already not on the register of electors. Tracking down these missing millions will be expensive and intrusive."

The fact that the electoral register will be the basic source of information about people liable to pay the community charge will turn it into a tax on

A Third Way Beyond Capitalism and Communism

INDEPENDENCE FOR ULSTER

ULSTER: A NATION

ULSTER TODAY is fighting for survival. But the biggest problem we face in the struggle against Westminster treason and Irish imperialism is the fact that we are unsure of our own identity. For too long, Ulster's historic, cultural and folk identity has been deliberately hidden so as to divide and destroy our nation..

For years, the "gentlemen" of capitalism, such as Molyneux and Paisley, like Faulkner and O'Neil before them, have been preaching for profit petty religious bigotry, which leads to futile sectarian strife. Then these "gentlemen" found it convenient to abandon and forget about those who were imprisoned because they had reacted to the windy rhetoric of such politicians.

Likewise, the forces of Irish imperialism, spearheaded by the Marxist IRA, have been busy promoting their own vicious brand of bigotry, hatred and violence. Their most obvious work is the murder of innocent men, women and little children. But over the past eighteen years, their lying propaganda machine has also been busy - churning out the myth of a "united Ireland, divided by the British."

SEPARATE NATION

Yet history shows clearly that Ulster has been a separate nation distinct from Ireland from the mists of time. Even the "Scottish" planters who came to Ulster in the 17th century from Daldriada and Galloway were in fact the descendents of the initial Celtic and Cruthinic inhabitants of Ulster who had sailed to Scotland centuries before. Records of the time show quite clearly that they knew they were merely "coming home" to join their cousins who had stayed behind and with whom they had maintained close contact.

Even in pre-Christian times, the Celtic high kings who reigned at Ulster's ancient capital Emain Macha (Narvan Fort) were frequently at war with their southern neighbours. Many battles were fought by the warrior knights of the Red Branch, led in battle by the legendary warrior CuChulainn. Famed for his defence of Uladh (the old Celtic name from which Ulster is derived) the heroic CuChulainn lived and died defending Ulster from the men of Ireland.

SPIRIT OF SACRIFICE

Our ancestors were a people of great pride and achievement. But above all they were a folk with a great spirit of sacrifice. They knew that this was rightfully their land and that they must struggle to protect it. This is the spirit that we in Ulster, Protestant and Catholic (since many Catholics are proud of this land and British nation also) must rekindle if we are to preserve our unique identity and heritage.

But this is not a spirit which the old politicians want to rekindle. Instead of building a truly united folk community on the firm foundations of National Freedom and Social Justice for all, our self-styled "leaders" have squabbled amongst themselves to be "top dog." They have not had to put up with the squalor, the injustice and social deprivation that ordinary Ulster-folk have suffered. They know nothing about slum housing, unemployment or low wages. Their only concern has been to maintain their own position, wealth and privilege.

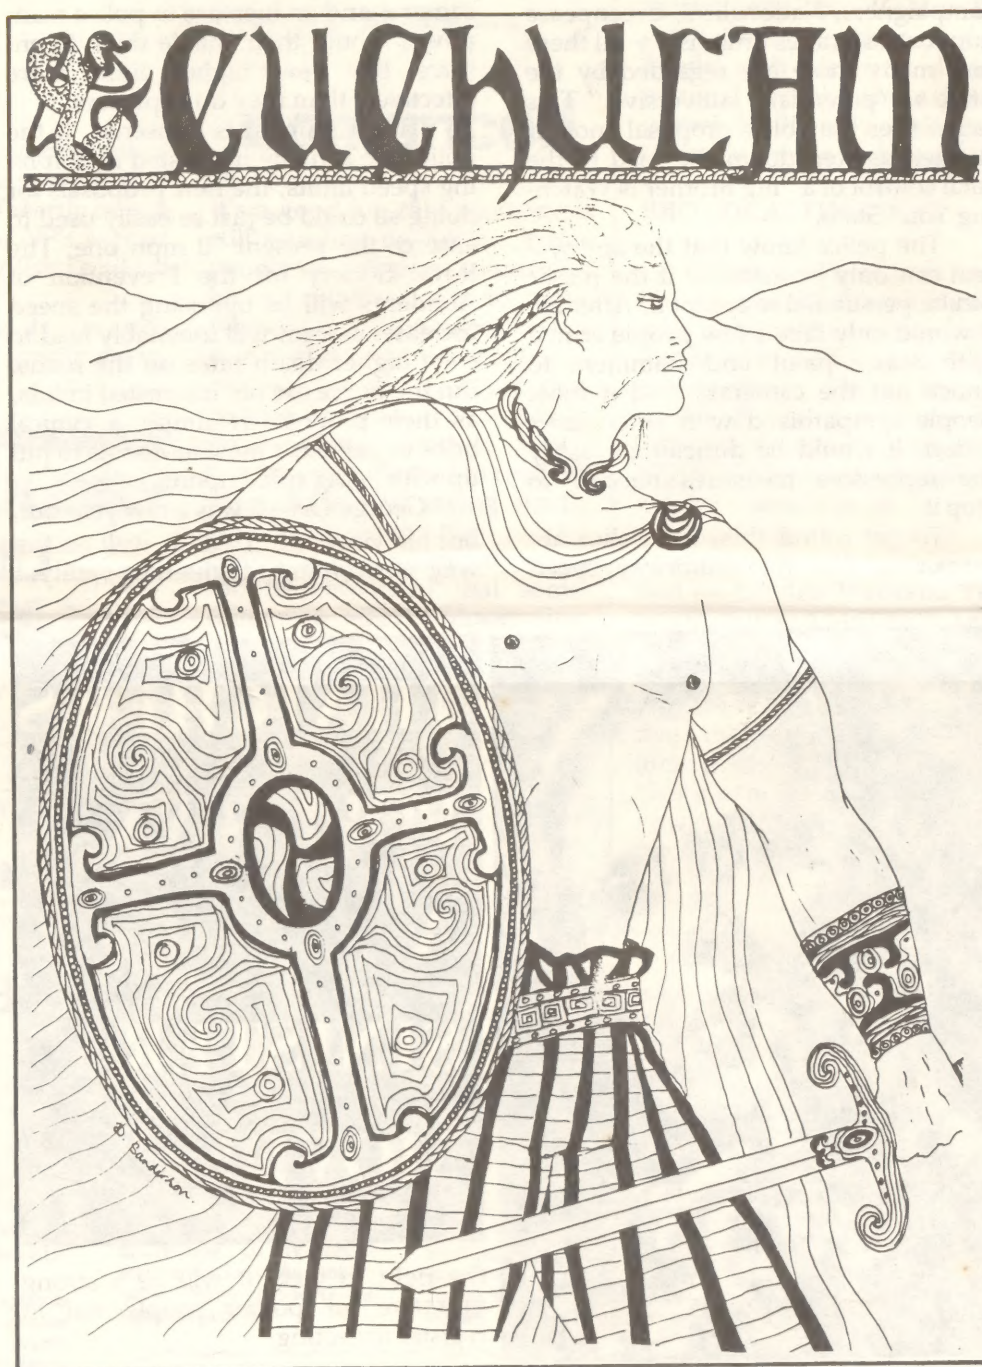

Their pathetic campaign against the Hillsborough betrayal has exposed these men as the dinosaurs they are. Ulster will only survive if these failed Unionist reactionaries are swept aside. They must make way for a new leadership with the new ideas and ancient spirit needed for victory.

ORGANIZE

This leadership must come from the people of Ulster themselves, and it will be organized in the National Front. We are the only movement that is committed to the complete overthrow of the corrupt Westminster establishment. And only this can preserve forever the traditions, cultures and peoples of the British Family of Nations.

Ulster can only remain a British nation through a Unilateral Declaration of Independence from the nation destroying grip of the British State. An independent Ulster will not break the link with Britain. Independence will only sever the political ties which bind us to a corrupt and centralized system which is the temporary creation of exploitative capitalism.

The British Family of Nations, on the other hand, are eternally linked by an organic unity of culture, race and spirit. The British peoples all sprang from common roots. We are united by the all-embracing ties of blood and soil. The present State sprang from greed, exploitation and deceit. If the British Family of Nations are to live, the British State must be destroyed.

There are those who say that an independent Ulster "could never survive." This would be true if our land continued to be run on divisive capitalist lines in the interests of multinational companies, big business and the wealthy few. But the NF's distributist policies of well-distributed land and property, small organic family farms and producers' co-operatives, would allow an independent, non-sectarian Ulster to bring peace and prosperity to all.

BY THE PEOPLE

An independent Ulster would no longer be subject to treacherous Agreements between foreign politicians, because she would be governed by and for her own people, from Ulster. Neither would we ever again live in fear of IRA terrorism, because the first duty of a National Government would be to restore the death penalty for all terrorist and sectarian murders.

Then and only then could Ulster folk, Protestant and Catholic, unite as brothers and sisters of the Red Hand. Then we could rise above this death, this decadence and decay, to build a New Social Order worthy of our children.

The choice is simple. Are we to remain beneath the jackboot of Westminster until we are handed over to Dublin? Or are we to rise up and take control of our own destinies and build a New Nation? Do we lose our identity completely or do we revive the true European traditions of the ancient folk cultures of our Cruthinic, Celtic and Norse forebears? Only this can create a new focus for loyalty to which Catholic and Protestant alike could give their undivided allegiance.

Ulster would become a beacon of inspiration and hope - shining the way forward for all the nations of our British family, and for all of Europe. A guiding light to lead our race into the National Revolutionary era of the next century!

"INSTANT" is the word which sums up the ethics of today's consumer society. It is implanted in the minds of millions of people as the ultimate good. Instant "fun" from the TV. Instant "culture" from the pop video. Instant "earnings" from Stock Exchange gambling. You don't even have to leave your armchair — you can do it all by pushing a few buttons.

This instant consumer society has infected millions of our people with the false notion that you can get something worthwhile without sacrifice, and that nothing is really worth working for. The National Front stands against this deadly mental paralysis.

We believe that worthwhile things and a healthy society can only be achieved through dedication and sacrifice. We believe that the future survival of the British peoples demands the creation of a new kind of Man — A man who does not demand instant satisfaction, but who measures his worth in terms of his contribution to the life of the folk community.

LONG STRUGGLE

We welcome the fact that this involves a long and hard struggle against State repression and popular apathy, for this struggle strengthens our militants and our movement.

The National Revolutionary is like a mountain climber, whose only goal is to reach the peak whatever the cost. And like the mountain climber, what joy is there in reaching the summit if all you have to do is to push a button and be transported without effort to any remote mountain peak? The achievement of getting to the top would be so devalued that we could no longer understand the glory of the scene before us.

We are small in numbers now, but the steep mountain path to National Freedom beckons us. We may briefly stop and glance back to get our bearings, but we must always look forward towards the sunlit uplands towards which our movement strives.

Our seek the pure air of a healthy folk community, where everyone can be involved in running their own lives — where everyone is an active member of society. We will leave below us the filth and squalor of the consumer society.

PRIDE AND HOPE

We have no "instant" success to offer; no material gains to be won; no cheap fame on the box. But we do offer the pride of doing what is right. And we offer hope to a lost people.

More than that, we offer the chance to get involved and to help build a new nation. We intend to build a society based on freedom and social justice — a society where there is opportunity for all, but privilege for none.

The National Front believes that to be involved in the struggle for these ideals in the only thing which can give real meaning and dignity to life in today's disjointed consumer nightmare.

Where do you stand? Will you be one of the passive millions slumped in front of the latest TV soap — or will you put pride and purpose back into your life by getting involved in our great struggle?
